THE ISLE OF WIGHT boasts beautiful countryside and beaches (currently there are 14 award-winning beaches, with three blue flag winners including Shanklin). Approximately half the Isle of Wight is an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, designated in 1963, which in total covers around 189 sq. km. The Island's AONB is represented by a diversity of landscapes, from imposing chalk cliffs to rolling countryside, plus half of the coastline including all of the Heritage Coast.

THE WEEKEND is designed to give those with a good working knowledge of steps and formations the opportunity to improve their technique, learn new dances and enjoy all social aspects of Scottish Country Dancing. We start with a wine reception before dinner on Friday, and finish after lunch on Sunday. There are classes each morning and a social dance each evening. We endeavour to evenly arrange participants into two mixed ability classes on Saturday and Sunday mornings. To assist with this please indicate your ability as accurately as possible in the boxes below.

We are also happy to accept applications from people wishing to attend the weekend who wish only to participate in the evening socials. Non-dancing partners/friends are also welcome.

COST: As specified on reverse, per person includes accommodation, full board, all tuition fees (where applicable), social dancing on Friday and Saturday evening, VAT and a non-refundable deposit. Due to the popularity of the weekend, bookings cannot be secured until full payment has been received. If, for any reason, you need to cancel your booking we will endeavour to refund your fee (minus £55.00 deposit). Due to booking conditions, any cancellations made after 11th December 2017 will be charged in full.

ACCOMMODATION: All bedrooms are centrally heated, with en-suite bathrooms and tea & coffee making facilities. We will also have use of the hotel's small indoor pool and sauna.
